

“To judge by all the reverence they are accorded, you'd think chefs were the most interesting people on the planet. In truth, they are sometimes not even the most interesting people in their own restaurants. Often, that distinction belongs to the sommelier. Not only are their life experiences frequently more varied than those of many chefs—wine cellars are crawling with academic overachievers and white-collar refugees—their motivations are also quite different. While high-end restaurant cooking in the United States is increasingly marked by the pursuit of celebrity and lucre, wine service is generally guided by another impulse: a desire to educate and enthuse”

Mike Steinberger, Slate Magazine.

Assalamu Alaikum

A vinous welcome to the patrons of Six Senses Laamu!- your gateway to luxury in serenity. Any such luxury, would of course be incomplete without the blessings of Bacchus- the god of wines. We have compiled a wide array of wines taking great care to showcase different grapes, regions, winemakers and winemaking styles. Keeping in line with our motto of “Responsible Luxury”, a vast no. of these selections are organic/biodynamic, easily identifiable with the 🌿 symbol.

In these selections, our aim has been quite simple: to satisfy you, to thrill you, to elevate your senses into the clouds of pure bliss.

Should you have any questions, please do get in touch with your sommelier or any other member of our service team.

Ankush Jindal,
Head Sommelier.

Meredith Rush,
Asst. Sommelier.
